To whom it may concern:

After several years and noticing the rapidly deteriorating condition of our garage and driveway, we decided to replace both. We started looking for a contractor and fortunately met David Schertzing. David quickly put us at ease with his approach to our project. From an abstract concept of "we want a new garage and driveway a little bit bigger than the current garage that matches the look and feel of our 80+ year old Tudor house", David built the perfect garage.

The quality of the work performed by David and his sub-contractors is superb. The sub-contractors arrived when scheduled and completed their work quickly*. They were professional, competent and friendly. David, and his chosen sub-contractors treated our house and property as if it was their own with respect and diligence.

We wholeheartedly recommend David Schertzing Builders for your projects.
