Subject: Our Experience with Dave Schertzing Builders

If you don't know much about building, but want high quality, and are looking for a stress free experience for your project, Dave Schertzing is your contractor.

After getting several bids for our project, we selected Dave Schertzing to build our 3-season room during the Fall of 2013. While Dave was not our lowest bidder, we selected him because of the solid confidence we had in him after meeting him, and because of the many recommendations he provided from prior clients. My husband and I were not very "building savvy" about the best way to complete our project, and we found Dave to be very knowledgeable and trustworthy in completing our project in a high quality way (not by cutting corners). Dave is a consummate professional, with high standards, that takes pride in his work. Dave provided excellent suggestions related to our project. Our 3-season room was completed on schedule, and turned out better than we imagined. Dave is a great person to work with, and it's easy to see that he loves his work. Our satisfaction was important to him, and he made sure everything was to our satisfaction. You can't ask for more than that. Therefore, we highly recommend Dave Schertzing Builder.
