To Whom It May Concern,

David Schertzing Builders removed, enlarged and rebuilt our back deck. He and his workers did an excellent job. He is professional, has great integrity, and completely trustworthy. Dave provided us with great common sense professional advice.

Dave also rebuilt our front porch. He hand made some of the materials we needed because the material that we needed did not fit into the scheme of things.

We also had several doors replaced and windows removed and a door put in its' place. He provided us with the information and maintained constant contact. He would email or phone with current updates.

We were very pleased with his professionalism. We would recommend Dave and his crew to anyone that needs anything done in the construction field.

Thanks Dave, everything is excellently built, beautiful and will last for years to come!
