

Building a house is one of the most challenging and stressful undertakings that a husband and wife will ever encounter in their lives. So many questions, with tons of decisions, and a bunch of unknowns. It's an extremely complex maze to say the least! For Paula & I, this challenge was further compounded by the fact that we would be doing it while residing in Florida. Because of this difficult circumstance, we knew that we needed someone who we could trust explicitly. Someone with integrity, patience, a proven track record of competence and knowledge, great communication skills, a hands-on builder that has the utmost of respect for his customers. To pull this off, we knew we needed Dave Schertzing!

Paula & I have over 40 years of experience in the IT profession, and we believe there is no substitute for years of experience and wisdom, and the constant learning that is needed for the continuous advancements. We feel the same is true in construction, which is the largest industry in the world. Dave has a decades-long successful track record of building beautiful custom homes, which proves beyond a shadow of a doubt that he has what it takes. He has seen it all and he knows what works and what doesn't, and always uses the tried-and-true methods. Because of this extensive experience, Dave suggested little things and some big things that never crossed our minds, but in the end, it made a world of difference in our home! He also is diligent in keeping up with the necessary "book learning" side of the business for the continuous advancements, which was needed for some of the non-standard materials used in the construction of our home.

Paula & I sincerely and unequivocally recommend Dave for building your new home! We are extremely grateful for his help and hard work, and we feel very Blessed that Dave was the one that built our beautiful new home that we love!
